

Saturday Night Live — Intro

This document is the introduction to the Saturday Night Live puzzle set. It's not a puzzle.

You may have more fun with the puzzles if you have a bit of familiarity with the sketches their titles come from. Such familiarity is never necessary for solving, but may sometimes help you figure things out faster.

Fortunately, the sketches are short and generally findable online as videos and/or transcripts. Below are some links to videos; the more time has passed since May 2018 the less likely these links still work.

See the next page for well-deserved acknowledgments of people who helped me write these puzzles.

Saturday Night Live — Intro

I'd like to express my great thanks to the following people for all their help with this puzzle set.

I especially want to thank my mentors, Donna Whitlock and Jeff Phillips, for their extensive guidance. They discussed early ideas me, playtested first drafts, suggested improvements, carefully searched for errors, and consulted on the many changes I wanted to make. All of this was extremely helpful in crafting the puzzles as they are today.

Thanks also to all the Puzzle Hunt organizers for volunteering their time and effort to run the overall event that this puzzle set was part of.

Finally, tremendous thanks to the playtesters whose invaluable feedback helped dramatically improve the puzzles. They're the members of the seven beta-testing teams, plus the following people who graciously accepted my personal requests to playtest puzzles at other stages of development:
